

Join our workshop at California House, Ipswich...

Insulin Awareness & Injection Technique, 16 October 2026, 9.30am-1.30pm

This workshop offers tools and knowledge to make a meaningful impact on the lives of those living with diabetes. Don't miss the opportunity to enhance your skills and confidence in delivering appropriate support, as well as to stay up to date!

The session assists in maintaining or even improving the quality of life for people living with diabetes by accessing more in depth information; assisting in reduced likelihood of medication errors, reduction of avoidable hospital admissions, minimising injection site problems.

Within the workshop, attendees will:

- gain an up to date overview of the use of insulin to treat diabetes
- obtain the theoretical skills to safely and correctly inject insulin, framed around national guidance and best practice

As well as providing the theoretical training of how to administer insulin, a practical element is included where attendees have 'hands on devices' time
(DUET diabetes does not provide 'competency assessments' for attendees).

Price: only £79+VAT

(includes a printed delegate pack and certificate on successful completion of the training)

What have previous attendees said about this workshop?

“I found all of the course useful, particularly the association to real life scenarios. The trainers were relaxed and informative. Very well prepared and knowledgeable.”

“Up to date information.. Learnt new information regarding safety needles. Details of ketones was beneficial as it’s a bit of a new area for me but so vital. Trainers were lovely. We all could ask questions and feel comfortable sharing. The venue was well suited for our session. This is a topic I have a personal interest in but it also helps support our training we give to carers.”

“Training is fantastic. Brilliant session- it really was so helpful.”

“We all really learned a lot and enjoyed the training. Thankyou so much.”

“Really useful & thorough”
